Be Prepared: Check off your belongings

Whether you own or rent, you need adequate insurance coverage to protect yourself against a catastrophic event such as a fire, tornado or home burglary. The best way to make sure you have proper coverage is to prepare an inventory of your home or apartment contents. Then talk to your insurance agent. Store this inventory checklist in a safe place such as a safe deposit box. If you have a loss, it will make it easier to file an accurate insurance claim. By completing an inventory now, you can feel comfortable that your possessions are properly insured and accounted for. The Home Inventory Checklist also can be found online at insurance.mo.gov.

CHECK IT OFF

Here are tips that will make your inventory list more useful:

• Start an inventory now, even if it is incomplete. It can be daunting if you have had a home for years. Start with new purchases and add older items later.

• Record specific details such as a Sony 42-inch flat panel TV. Better yet, give the serial number for this and other expensive electronics and appliances. Otherwise you might get a lowerpriced replacement.

Living room/den checklist

• Take photos or make videos of valuable household items or collections. Write down the location of the photos or videos on your checklist so you can easily find it.

Group together smaller-priced items such as children's toys, cookware and linens. If you had to buy everything at one time, they can add up quickly.

• List items that you frequently take with you, such as a cell phone, smart watch, laptop, tablet, jewelry or camera.

Check the value of items such as jewelry, artwork and other collections of antiques and firearms. Then check with your agent to make sure you have adequate insurance. This may require additional insurance known as a "rider."

Update your inventory every year and when you make large purchases.
